Pursuant to Article 4(1) and Articles 51 through 70 of the Exchange Rules (hereinafter: the Rules), this Manual regulates the following:

- financial instruments in respect of which Exchange members may engage in market making;
- organisational, personnel and technical market making requirements;
- grant and termination of the market maker status at the request of the member firm; and
- market making parameters.

1 Introduction

Market maker is an Exchange member which, under a contract concluded with the Exchange, assumes special obligations with regard to maintaining liquidity of a particular financial instrument for a period of time during the continuous trading session by simultaneously issuing quotes.

2 Financial Instruments

Financial instruments in respect of which a member firm may engage in market making are the following:

- shares,
- structured products and
- ETF units.

3 Organisational, Personnel and Technical Market Making Requirements

3.1 Organisational Market Making Requirements

Any member firm intending to engage in market making must:

1. ensure that its market making does not affect the performance of regular trading activities;
2. establish a permanent and effective system to prevent and control the exchange of information so that the provision of specific services and activities by the member firm (e.g. executing orders for the account of a client etc.) does not affect its market making or constitute market abuse within the meaning of the Regulation (EU) No 596/2014;
3. establish a permanent and effective system to prevent a conflict of interest which may arise in the course of market making and while performing other tasks at the member firm, and which may harm client interests;
4. keep records of the market maker's quotes and transactions concluded based on such quotes.

3.2 Personnel Market Making Requirements

A member firm intending to engage in market making must ensure that the (natural) person performing such tasks at the member firm is trained for engaging in market making, i.e. that such a person meets the following criteria:

- has a valid brokerage licence in accordance with the Capital Market Act (hereinafter: the CMA), or meeting the broker criteria as laid down by the Member State of the member firm's domicile ¹;
- completes education for the use of the XETRA® trading system;
- completes market making education organised by the Exchange.

The member firm should apply for education of the person to engage in market making² to the Exchange. The application is to be submitted to the ZSE Academy to the e-mail address: akademija@zse.hr.

Education consists of lectures to be delivered in the manner, at the time and place to be specified by the Exchange.

On completing education, the participant will be issued by the Exchange an appropriate certificate of the education completed and the participant's data will be entered in a database of persons who have completed market making education.

Before performing market making tasks for the first time, the person who has completed education is required to undergo appropriate testing in a designated XETRA® simulation environment.

To enable testing for the performance of market making tasks, the member firm should request access to the test environment in the application for the grant of market maker status³.

3.3 Technical Market Making Requirements

A member firm intending to engage in market making must have a trading system which enables the performance of market making tasks.

¹ A natural person will be deemed to meet that criterion if possessing a licence for work as an investment adviser in accordance with the CMA or meeting the criteria for investment adviser, as laid down by the Member State of the member firm's domicile.

² Annex 2 to this Manual

³ Annex 1 to this Manual

4 Grant of Market Maker Status

4.1 Applying for the Grant of Market Maker Status

A member firm intending to engage in market making must apply to the Exchange for the grant of market maker status⁴.

The application for the grant of market maker status must include at least the following:

1. information on the type of financial instrument in respect of which the member firm intends to engage in market making;
2. information on the date on which the member firm plans to commence market making;
3. type and brief description of the trading system the member firm plans to use to perform market making tasks;
4. statement of the market maker that it fully complies with the organisational, personnel and technical requirements for engaging in market making laid down by the CMA, these Rules and other acts of the Exchange.

If the member firm intends to engage in market making through a natural person, in the application for the grant of market maker status that member firm is required to specify data for each natural person who will perform market making tasks and a list of financial instruments in respect of which that person is to perform market making tasks.

4.2 Deciding on Market Maker Applications

An incomplete or irregular application for the grant of market maker status will be returned to the member firm for correction and completion.

If the application is complete and regular, the Exchange will proceed to determine whether the member firm complies with the market making requirements.

The Exchange has the right, in the course of the verification procedure and at any time during which the member firm engages in market making, to request from the member firm to present or enable the examination of documents and procedures it may deem necessary for determining whether the member firm complies with the market making requirements.

If the Exchange finds that the member firm does not comply with market making requirements, it will instruct the member firm to undertake measures necessary for compliance within an appropriate time frame, if possible. If the member firm fails to comply even on expiry of the appropriate time, the Exchange will adopt a resolution refusing the application for the grant of market maker status.

If the member firm complies with all the requirements laid down for market makers, the member firm and the Exchange will conclude a market making contract.

⁴ Annex 1 to this Manual

4.3 Market Making Contract

A member firm which complies with all the requirements laid down for market makers will conclude a market making contract⁵ with the Exchange.

A member firm which complies with all the requirements laid down for market makers in structured products will conclude a structured products market making contract⁶ with the Exchange. An annex to the structured products market making contract will be concluded in respect of each individual structured product of the same issuer following the conclusion of the principal contract.

The member firm will be granted market maker status by concluding a market making contract with the Exchange.

The fact that the member firm has been granted market maker status in respect of a particular financial instrument will be published by the Exchange on its website and notified to other Exchange members. Similarly, the Exchange will publish on its website the date from which the member firm will commence market making in a particular financial instrument, provided that it has informed the Exchange of such a date.

The member firm is required to inform the Exchange of the date from which it will commence market making at least 2 (two) trading days before exercising the rights and performing the obligations of market maker.

⁶ Annex 5

5 Market Making Requirements and Parameters

5.1 Market Makers in Shares or ETF Units

The market maker in shares or ETF units is required to issue bid and ask quotes for 60 % of the time during continuous trading on each trading day, where:

- the quoted buy and sell volume must be equal to or higher than the minimum volume laid down in this Manual; and
- the quoted price range must be lower or equal to the maximum spread laid down in this Manual.

For the purpose of determining the minimum quoted volume and the maximum spread, shares or ETF units are assigned to liquidity classes based on data on their average daily turnover. The liquidity classification is done at the beginning of each quarter on the basis of trading data for the previous quarter.

5.1.1 Average daily turnover

The calculation of the average daily turnover of a particular share or ETF unit will take into account the turnover made within the order book. It will not take into account block trades or OTC transactions.

5.1.2 Criteria for share or ETF unit liquidity classification

For the purpose of determining market making parameters, shares or ETF units are assigned to three liquidity classes according to the following criteria:

Class/category	Average daily turnover
1	> HRK 250,000
2	> HRK 100,000

5.1.3 Maximum spread

The maximum spread is the maximum permitted difference between bid and ask quotes entered by the market maker.

The maximum spread that a market maker must enter in the trading system is determined as a percentage, and is shown in the following table:

Class/category	Maximum spread
2	5 %

5.1.4 Minimum volume

The minimum volume of quotes to be issued by the market maker in the trading system is shown in the table below:

Class/category	Minimum quoted amount (in HRK)
1	HRK 35,000
2	HRK 15,000
3	HRK 10,000

The minimum volume of shares or ETF units is expressed in units. The Exchange will calculate the minimum volume corresponding to the minimum quoted amount once a month, according to the following formula:

$$Q = \text{Limit} / P$$

Q = minimum volume of share or ETF unit expressed in units;

Limit = minimum quoted amount expressed in the kuna for the class to which a share or an ETF unit belongs;

P = average price of the share or ETF unit on the last day of the previous month.

The minimum volume Q of particular shares or ETF units in a market maker quote is rounded up to the first next higher integer.

Once a month, the Exchange will calculate the minimum volume of shares or ETF units in a market maker quote to be provided to the market maker and will also publish it on its website.

5.1.5 Methodology of calculating quoting time

The market maker's quoting time is calculated as a portion of the total duration of trading.

The following will not be taken into account in calculating the market maker's quoting time:

1. opening auctions and closing auctions;
2. temporary trading suspension of the financial instrument which is subject to market making;
3. any time of the market maker's temporarily relief from its obligations, in accordance with the provisions of the Exchange Rules.

5.2 Market makers in structured products

The issuer of a structured product is required to designate a market maker which must be an Exchange member.

The market maker in a structured product is required to issue bid and ask quotes on each trading day.

The minimum market maker's quoting time, the maximum spread and the minimum quoted amount will be specified by the market maker in the structured product market making contract to be concluded with the Exchange.

6 Market Making Termination at the Request of the Member Firm

The member firm which no longer intends to engage in market making must apply to the Exchange for termination of the market making⁷.

In the application the member firm is required to specify the financial instruments to which the market making termination refers and the date by which it plans to continue its market making activity.

The Exchange will adopt a resolution terminating market maker status in respect of the financial instruments referred to in the application within 5 (five) days of the date of its receipt.

The member firm is required to engage in market making until the date specified in the application, but in any case, for at least 20 (twenty) trading days after the date of the Exchange resolution.

⁷ Annex 3

7 Transitional and Final Provisions

This Manual shall enter into force on 1 August 2020.

On the entry into force of this Manual, the Market Making Manual of 26 November 2019 shall cease to have effect.
